Full House Project at the Florida State University Department of Dance

Your Partnership in Performance

The Full House Project

The Nancy Smith Fichter Dance Theatre, located in the beautifully renovated Montgomery Hall on Landis Green, is home to the nationally ranked Florida State University Department of Dance. The theatre houses state-of-the-art equipment and has a seating capacity of 380. You can become a lasting part of the theatre through the Full House Project.

A Lasting Show of Support

All proceeds from the Full House Project go directly to the Friends of Dance Scholarship Campaign, ensuring a lasting future for students and dance.

A Full House will be a financial foundation that the Department of Dance can build upon for years to come.

With your donation you will receive:

- Engraved plate on a chair in the Nancy Smith Fichter Dance Theatre
- Certificate of Authenticity
- Map of the Theatre with the location of your chair
- Name on plaque in lobby
- Listing in the annual Dance Newsletter

The Nancy Smith Fichter Dance Theatre is integral to a dance major's studies here at Florida State University. It provides not only state-of-the-art facilities but gives the students an extraordinary performing experience, making it a highlight of their dance education.

You can dedicate your chair:

- To commemorate a graduation
- In honor or memory of a loved one
- To celebrate a special occasion
- To acknowledge a business

Help fill the house for years to come.
